word as being the very best to describe the government of the church.

First, the men who are at the head of church affairs are called, and they have chosen the name "The Governing Authorities." Authority is a synonym of government; but to emphasize that fact they qualify the word by as adjective which asserts that they are the government. They declare that they are the government. They declare that they are "The Authorities that Govern.

No one disputes that within the church or without. Not is there any question as to who there "governing authorities" are, for they publish the list themselves. That list is found in a little book that lies before me as I write—twenty-five men.

They have the choice of two names by which to designate their body—hierarchy or oligarchy. But the latter term is not truly descriptive of this body, for an oligarchy may be composed of civil or military persons. Otherwise it is a term that describes them, which is the proper function of a word.

them, which is the proper function of a word. They govern and they are priests. The man can reach the lowest station in this governing body, without receiving the Melchizedek priesthood. All offithe Melchizedek priesthood. All offi-cers are appendages to this priesthood. That ordinance is essential to every one who exercises authority in the church. It is therefore a government by priests, which is the definition of hierarchy. Ierus, priest; Archon, governor. Why pettifog? Then, why try to be-fog the matter, as the News attempts to do in its issue of the 28th ultimo? If the Mormon people vote these priests into power, or "sustain" them, tockholders. Movements for advances in freight rates are heard of from vari-ous sections, and accompanying them are complaints from shippers, many of them being presented to the interstate commerce commission for action toward prevention of the proposed increases. Supply of Money Large.

The manner in which the October 1 money market settlements were met afforded striking evidence fo the great abundance of money supplies. Call loan rates in New York did not rise above 2 rates in New York did not rise above 2 per cent, a lower maximum for the first week in October than has been since 1894. Foreign money markets also promptly relaxed after the turn of the quarter.

The first freezing tentatures of the season in the grain best arrived without material influence on the price of corn, reflecting the conviction that the crop is matured beyond reach of damage. The English cotton mill lockout complicates the influence of the decline in condition of the cotton crop in the market for that staple.

"THE GOVERNING AUTHORITIES" A HIERARCHY

Editor Tribune—I am often amused at the frantic efforts of the News to disprove what is patent on its face, that the Mormon church is governed by a hierarchy. The word seems to excite it very much as a red flag enrages a bull, and it bellows and paws the ground, and charges with lowered head to gore to the death this very harmless and proper word.

My impression is the editor has a severe spell of hiero-phobia, which breaks out at requent intervals, in a mad zeal to eliminate the word from the vocabulary. If I were one of the priests in authority, I would cheerfully accept the word as being the very best to describe the government of the church.

First, the men who are at the head of church affairs are called, and they have chosen the name "The Governing Authorities." Authority is a synonym of thorities." Authority is a synonym of the consent that face is a strong powerful organ, which is composed of muscles of great strength. It is filled during discontent among the church, "there are many priests in the church."

True enough, but they have no authority, I would cheerfully accept the word as being the very best to describe the government of the church.

First, the men who are at the head of church affairs are called, and they have chosen the name "The Governing Authority is a synonym of the thorities." Authority is a synonym of the church face.

They may impeach their rulers and the follows the presses it into the intestines are the presses it into the intestines.

They may impeach their rulers and put them out of office, at least, these priest-rulers flatter the people that they possess this right, but as long as they hold the office they govern. They are priests, and therefore they are a "thie-rarchy."

In closing, let me express my aston-ishment that the Mormon people, who are intelligent and citizens of a free are intelligent and citizens of a free land, do not demand and insist on more power. No other privilege is ever granted them than to vote 'ves' or 'no' as to sustaining. They have no power of nomination of rulers, no privilege of initiating changes no opportunity of discussing measures. The line of least resistance is to be 'passion,' to obey 'counsel.' to 'mind your own business' and 'follow your file leaders,' and they comply. What other free people under heaven would listen to such insulting language as Brigham Young used (see J. of D. Vol. 1, p. 341) and supinely worship the man who lashed them:

'No man need judge me. You know nothing about it whether I am sent or not; furthermore, it is none of your business, only to listen with open ears to what is taught you, and serve God with what is taught you, and serve God with an undivided heart."

This subserviency, this slavery to a priesthood, though their tongues are now smoother than oil, will not always

The regular quarterly meeting of the Utah Association of Life Underwriters will take place in the near future, and adequate notice will be served upon all adequate notice will be served upon an members. Important plans for the winter will be discussed, including a number of important recommendations regarding life insurance laws which will be submitted to the legislature for consideration. It is earnestly urged by the members of the association that there shall be the most earnest co-operation on the part of all connected with the life insurance business, and members hope that as many as possible of the agents here may become identified with the association.

Frank T. Hefflefing, president, and Fred B. Wells, vice-president, of one of Fred B. Wells, vice-president, of one of the largest grain elevator systems in the world, last week took out policies aggre-gating one million dollars, making the amount payable to the corporation, a Minneapolis concern. This is the third million-dollar contract ever placed at one time. George W. Vanderbilt and the late F. H. Peavey each took out policies of $1,000,000 at one time, but while other men carry insurance for this and greater amounts, only these this and greater amounts, only these three cases are recorded where $1,000,-

Life insurance men will be interested Life insurance men will be interested in the following statements recently issued by the officers of the Utah Association of Life Underwriters: "It is estimated that fully 500 young men, ranging in age from 15 to 21, are paying premiums on life insurance poncies in old line companies in the city. While of taking out insurance while young is considered. This is a great field for the insurance solicitor, one that ought to re-ceive attention from every man with a rate book.

So many changes have been made in life insurance contracts in recent years that it is believed the limit of liberality has been reached in the privileges and advantages to the policy holder. In the matter of hazardous occupation alone the field has been so broadened that it is now possible for a good physical risk in almost any occupation to get insurance on some plan consistent with the conditions surrounding the risk, from the miner underground to the man who climbs electric light poles, railroad men of every kind, electricians, chauffeurs, men in the army and navy service, men in every phase of the liquor busines, etc. These are great strides in the right direction, as the desire and need of protection is as great and more important in the hazardous occupation than in standard cases. So many changes have been made in standard cases.

The following, recently received from the secretary of the Utah Association of Life Underwriters, explains the attitude of the association in its answers to com-munications received by its officers in life insurance publicity matters.

The letter from Cache county, which appeared in this column some time ago, asking about the standing and practices of a certain company new operating in Utah, was submitted to the editor of the Life Insurance Independent, together with the reply from the representatives of that company. This was done in order to secure from an unbiased viewpoint a fair and honest exposition of the entire matter.

A reply has been received by the association in advance of the journal containing the article, and will be given publicity at an early date, which will show that our reply to our correspondent was without prejudice and perfectly fair to the company in question.
